LINN'S STAMP NEWS

Ms. Foster

Understands that the alleged nine CIA employees who were involved in the selling of US postage stamps that had been purchased with US Government funds each kept one stamp, rather than as they testified that they had been used in mailing CIA materials. Asks whether it is a criminal offense to lie to a Government investigator and what disciplinary action will be taken against them.

Cannot respond to this specific case, but can say that CIA has a high standard of conduct and expects all employees to meet that standard. We do not take lightly questions of impropriety.
